There was one finding in the review of policyholder service.

Underwriting and Rating

The examiners reviewed the Company's underwriting and rating practices. To perform the review, the examiners requested the Company provide policies and procedures, guidelines, and related documentation. Interviews were performed to obtain additional understanding of the underwriting and rating processes. This included how the Company trains underwriters and monitors the performance of their tasks relating to the use of underwriting guidelines, rating schedules and external underwriting software. The examiners were provided access to the external underwriting software to ascertain whether the examiners could come to the same conclusions, based on facts and circumstances, as the Company in files where it was possibly a questionable situation. The examiners tested 50 issued policy files for compliance with applicable NAIC Market Regulation Handbook Standards related to underwriting and rating, including, but not limited to commissions/inducements, risk selection, discriminatory underwriting practices, timeliness of provision of required disclosures to policyholders, replacements, suitability, and use of endorsements and riders.

The review of the initial sample of issued policies indicated a need for an additional sample to further review Company practices related to replacements and suitability.

The examiners tested the sample files against ten standards contained in Chapter 16 of the Market Regulation Handbook, and three standards contained in Chapter 19 of the Market Regulation Handbook.

No findings were noted in this review.

COMPLAINT FINDINGS

Finding 1: Failure to use an adequate definition of a complaint.

The examination was conducted using the NAIC Market Regulation Handbook as the basis for compliance testing. NAIC Market Regulation Handbook, Complaint Handling Standard 2, anticipates that the regulated entity has adequate complaint handling procedures in place and communicates such procedures to policyholders.

The definition of “complaint” from the NAIC Market Regulation Handbook is “a written communication that expresses dissatisfaction with a specific person or entity subject to regulation under the state’s insurance laws. An oral communication, which is subsequently converted to a written form, would meet the definition of a complaint for this purpose.”

The definition of “complaint” in the Company’s Complaint Handling Procedures defined a “formal complaint” as “Any written communication that expresses dissatisfaction with the companies, producer, or product where the individual or group expressing the dissatisfaction would reasonably expect a written response.”

The Company’s definition of “complaint” did not match the definition in the NAIC Handbook and may have allowed communications to be classified as an “inquiry” instead of a complaint. In their review, the examiners did not identify any unlogged complaints.

Subsequent Event

During the course of the examination, the Company provided the examiners with an updated definition of a complaint which was implemented by the Company for South Dakota complaints.

Recommendation

It is recommended that the Company’s definition in its Complaint Handling Procedures match that of the NAIC Handbook.

POLICYHOLDER SERVICE FINDINGS

Finding 2: Company policies do not provide for certain processes for locating beneficiaries.

The examiners requested the Company provide their guidelines and procedures relating to escheatment of unpaid premiums and claims which the Company provided. As a part of this review, the examiners noted the Company's policies did not define processes focusing on other databases, trying to email beneficiaries and/or asking other beneficiaries for assistance in locating missing beneficiaries. The examiners saw no evidence of the Company querying known beneficiaries as to the whereabouts of missing beneficiaries and/or general internet searches for same.

The Company is subject to the Regulatory Settlement Agreement which the Company executed on November 1, 2013. The settlement agreement specifically defines a "Thorough Search" specifying when a Thorough Search must be conducted, requiring implementation of policies and procedures related to a Thorough Search, and specifying when a Thorough Search must be conducted for a group life policy. The RSA requires the Company's "best efforts" regarding a Thorough Search.

Subsequent Event

After receiving examiner feedback, the Company has implemented general internet searches. The Company has represented it allows claims handlers to contact beneficiaries to search for missing beneficiaries.

Recommendation

Pending examination by a Lead State under the RSA, the Company should adopt and implement policies and procedures defining processes to search for beneficiaries using an additional internet search and, where appropriate, contact beneficiaries when attempting to locate missing beneficiaries.

UNDERWRITING AND RATING FINDINGS

Finding 3: Failure to comply with suitability requirements

Interviews of Company management indicated that the Underwriting Department is responsible for reviewing suitability and following up with the agent if there are concerns with suitability of the transaction. The examiners found no evidence of such reviews or follow-up throughout the review of issued policies and other underwriting materials.

In review of the samples of issued policies, the examiners found instances where the Company was unable to provide required suitability analyses. From the sample of issued policies, eleven were identified as replacement policies for which the requirements of ARSD 20:06:10:02.01 regarding maintaining suitability analyses applied. The Company was unable to provide suitability analyses for two of the issued policies.

Population	Sample Size	Number of Replacement Policies	Number of Exceptions	Total Error Rate
645	50	11	2	18%

In review of the eleven replacement policies, the examiners identified four policies in which the analysis does not support each transaction as suitable. These are shown in the chart below.

Population	Sample Size	Number of Replacement Policies	Number of Exceptions	Total Error Rate
645	50	11	4	36%

ARSD 20:06:10:02.01 provides, in part:

General requirements. The following are general requirements for health and life insurance advertisements and solicitations:

(1) Each insurer must maintain at its home office or principal office a complete file containing one copy of each form authorized by the insurer for use pursuant to this chapter. Each authorized form must be kept in the file for five years following the date of its last authorized use;

(2) In recommending the purchase of a policy to a consumer, an agent must determine at the time of sale that the placement of the policy is not inappropriate for the consumer. The agent shall determine the appropriateness of a recommended purchase of insurance by examination of the totality of the particular consumer's circumstances, including the following:

(a) The consumer's financial condition, i.e., if a person is on a fixed income, premium costs;

(b) The consumer's need for insurance at the time of sale, i.e., existing policies, insured's finances;

(c) The values, benefits, and costs of the consumer's existing insurance program, if any, when compared to the values, benefits, and cost of the recommended policy or policies.

The Company did not comply with suitability requirements.

Recommendations

The Company should adopt and implement policies and procedures to assure that:

- Required suitability analyses are completed and maintained,
- Ongoing quality assurance testing is performed related to suitability, and
- Company records should indicate the name of the underwriter reviewing the application and their concurrence with the suitability of each replacement transaction.
